than twelve billions. The American people are taxed to pay the interest on the unfunded and dormant portion of this debt and as a matter of course, every citizen is concerned with having the question settled.

The present status of the debt is summarized as follows Forty-two per cent of it is funded This amounts in figures to $4 249,434 720. Great Britain, our largest debtor, has entered into an agreement whereby she pays yearly installments averaging $150,000,000. Sizytvivo years will be required to repay the whole debt.
