YESTERDAY'S SOLUTION

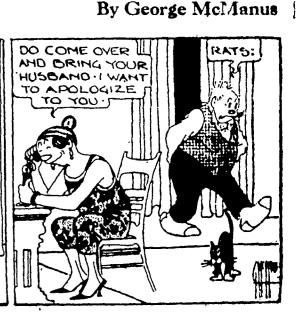

Special to The Gazette. IOWA CITY. Feb. 9.—A man has a right to keep liquor in order that he can "have a little drink" when he wants it, a jury in the justice court of C. Roup decided in upholding the right of William Helman, a janitor, 'to 50 gallons of wine selzed in a raid on his home recently by local police. Helman's legal battle to regain possession of the liquor was regarded as a test case under the new Iowa law. When questioned on the witness stand, Helman said he had the liquor "so I can have a little drink when I want it." He admitted the wine was of his own manufacture, but said he had not sold any of it. IA. INCOME TAX BILL IS

BONER, CONGRESSMEN SAY.

Special to The Grazette.

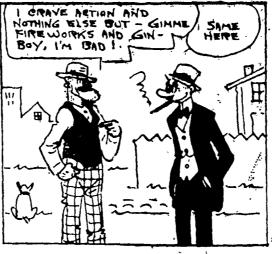

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.— Iowa members of congress are looking with interest to Iowa to ascertain what action may be taken by the legislature on the proposal of Gov. Hammill to enact an income tax law in the state. The view of most of the lowa members is that the state legislature is flirting with a buzz-saw in considering any measure that will impose additional taxation on the people of the Hawkeye state.
