

Americans Figure In British Sports Events This Week

SMITH AND BARNES LIKELY TO CUT CAPERS IN OPEN TOURNEY

Hennessey, Casey Not Highly Regarded In Wimbledon Meet Where French Favored To Run Away With Leading Honors.

LONDON, June 22.—(US)—The big week of international sports opens today with tennis at Wimbledon and golf at Troon. On Wednesday and Saturday the polo games between the British and American army teams will be completed.

The general belief is that Wimbledon will furnish a French triumph in the men's and women's singles, the men's doubles and the mixed doubles. Rene Lacoste is the favorite in the men's singles but good chances are also conceded to Borotra and Andre Gobert, while J. C. Anderson, the Australian Davis cup player has many backers. Not much is thought of the prospects of Ray Casey and John Hennessey, Americans, beyond the likelihood of their surviving the first few rounds. In the women's singles only the incomparable Suzanne Lenglen is mentioned. Her recent illness, from which she has completely recovered, has left her thinner, but she says she is able to move across the court faster than ever.

Figures In Golf Meet. While American chances at Wimbledon are deemed negligible, there is every likelihood that the British open golf championship will again go to a United States contender. Over 200 entrants will play two rounds on Monday and Tuesday and the best eighty scores will qualify the players for the championship over four rounds at Prestwick on Thursday and Friday.

Of the five American competitors the favorite is J. McDermott Smith, Jim Barnes is also believed to have a good chance but there is not much confidence in Kirkwood's chances. Nothing is known here of the capabilities of Bredemus and Thompson, the other two. Smith is tipped to beat Britain's best who, on form, are Abe Mitchell, Arthur Havers and Ernest Whitcombe.

23 New Yorkers Qualify, Compete In A. A. U. Meet

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—Twenty-three New Yorkers, including Olympic, national and metropolitan champions, qualified in field games at Travers Island Saturday to represent the metropolitan district in the A. A. U. championships at San Francisco on July 3, 4 and 5. Among the more prominent athletes to qualify were: Running events—Alan Helfrich, Jackson Scholz, J. O. McDonald, Joseph Lacey and Jimmy Connolly of New York A. C.; Willie Kyronen of the Finnish-American A. C.; and Chester Bowman of the Newark A. C. Hurdles—Harold Christie and Herb Myers of the Newark A. C. Jumping—Charles Major, Salem-Crescent A. C.; Paul Courtland, New York A. C.; G. M. Gist, Ninety-second street Y. M. C. A. Shotput and hammer throw—Pat McDonald and Matt McGrath of the New York A. C. Pole vault—N. Farrell and S. N. Scholop of the New York A. C. Ten additional athletes will be sent to the championship as representatives of the New York A. C. They are Frank Hussey, W. Todd, George Mursters, William Good, Ed Swinburn, J. J. Nichol, Alvin Woodring and Joseph Campbell, all to compete in running events; Leroy Brown, running high jump, and George Taylor, hammer throw.

MAX BISHOP, star second baseman of the Athletics, was carried off the field with an injured ankle when he slid into the home plate during the A's seventh inning rally. He will be out of the game for some time. Jimmy Dykes probably will hold down the keystone sack for the league leaders.

WILLS TO STAKE ALL IN WEINERT BATTLE

Dope Seems To Favor White Boxer Basing Argument On Firpo Fight.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(US)—Harry Wills is staking his all in the coming fray with Charley Weinert at the Italian hospital fund show here. Harry is like the batman at the plate with the bases filled, two out and the score tied. If he hits he is here, if not, he is a dud. Harry must hit Weinert for a goal or his claim for a fight with Jack Dempsey will be laughed off the layout.

On dope, Weinert looks the winner. This seems rather farfetched when one considers the great reputation of Wills. The best line can be taken through Luis Firpo. Both Wills and Weinert trimmed Luis. Both Wills and Weinert gave him the worst beating. Life sent Firpo to his dressing room looking like a hamburger. Wills did not do half the damage effected by his coming antagonist. And that means that Wills has tremendous advantage over Weinert in every way.

Weinert outboxed and outclassed Firpo in every round of their tussle. There was a story after this fight that Wills did not do his best, as Jack Dempsey was at the ringside. That is a lot of hokum, for Harry made every effort possible to knock out the gay Lotus from South America. He dropped Firpo with a short right, but that brought him no credit for he sneaked the blow over on a breakaway. He hits harder than Weinert but not hard enough.

Gene Tunney's Main Weakness Is His Hands

By AL DEMARRE
(Former Pitcher, N. Y. Giants)

Now that everybody is wondering whether Gene Tunney will get a chance to meet Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight crown, Gene is being watched pretty closely. Outside of Harry Wills, he is the only logical contender for the title.

Gene is right in his prime as a fighter, and is just 27 years old. He was a shipping clerk in New York when the war started, and he joined the Marines, and took up boxing at the front. He fought his way up until he was inter-allied boxing champion, and that was what caused him to follow boxing professionally when the war ended.

Gene's main weakness was a bad pair of hands, which were rather small, and which he broke at one time. But they seem to be all right now, as his clean cut victory over Gibbons proved. His chance against Dempsey depends a good deal on whether Jack is the champion of old, or whether the luxurious life he has led during the last four years has softened him—and that much talked about new nose of his might have something to do with it.

Dempsey might be like Jeffries, who, outwardly, looked almost as good as he ever did, when he fought Johnson. But he was just an empty shell.

Al Kapinos tells a good one, in Demar's cartoon-article tomorrow.

PADDOCK, MURCHISON "BLOW" IN GERMANY

Criticized For Failure To Show Form; Badly Beaten In Berlin Games.

BERLIN, June 22.—(INS)—Criticism was voiced today against Charles Paddock, California runner, and Loren Murchison, of Missouri runner, for their showing yesterday at the Olympic stadium.

Murchison ran fourth in the 100 meters event. Paddock failed to qualify for the finals. Hubert Adams, the German champion, defeated Murchison.

"The Americans proved a pitiable and inexcusable failure considering the thousands who had been attracted by their appearance," said the New Berliner. "In the theater you blow a whistle and yell down, to such people. But on the sporting ground you are satisfied with an exclamation: 'The big guns were just!'"

Murchison's friends attributed his slowness to a rough sea voyage and insufficient time to train after reaching Germany.

Cedar Rapids baseball fans, some of whom are quick on the trigger in condemning misplays of the Bunnies, never fail to acknowledge commendable deeds of hostile players.

Amateur Golfers In 29th Tourney Starting Aug. 31

OAKMOUNT, Pa., June 22.—(US)—Competition for the twenty-ninth amateur golf championship of the United States will be held on the country club course here Aug. 31 through Sept. 5.

The rules of the United States Golf association will govern all matches. The Havemeyer cup and four medals will be awarded. The winner will receive a gold medal, the runner-up will receive a silver medal and the other semi-finalists will be given bronze medals. The player making the lowest score in the 36-hole qualification round will receive a special prize.

Entries must be made by Aug. 1. All players who have qualified for the match play rounds of championship over the past three years will be eligible. Other amateurs will be required to submit entries showing a rating of three or less, based on the Calkins handicap system.

125 GOLFERS START PLAY IN AMES MEET

AMES, June 22.—(AP)—Weather permitting, about 125 central Iowa golfers were scheduled to tee off in the preliminary round of the Central Iowa golf association tourney here today. Marshalltown, Newton, Webster city were among the cities represented. The finals will be played Wednesday.

SIoux CITY PLANS TO STAGE IOWA'S BIGGEST GOLF MEET

Leading Amateurs From All Parts Of State To Compete For Championship; Larger Clubs To Have Ten Or More Entrants.

SIoux CITY, June 22.—Two hundred and fifty Sioux City golfers will compete in the state tournament if present plans of Dr. J. H. Humphrey, secretary of the Iowa Golf association, materialize. It is the intention of the committee in charge of the tournament to have every golfer in the city, regardless of his ability, in the big event, which starts on July 6 at the Sioux City Country club. There will be flights for all and prizes to the winners and runnersup in each flight.

Golfers from out of the city also have been urged to compete whether they are of championship caliber or not. The committee wants to make the tournament an event in which all the golfers in the state will have a chance to compete for a trophy.

Many Entries Coming. More than 50 entries already have been received from clubs outside of the city. "Bill" Budyk state prize sectional champion will head a delegation of 12 amateurs from Waterloo. Fort Dodge will be represented by at least 10. Council Bluffs already has entered 15 and expects to send several more. Storm Lake will have at least five competitors and Dubuque the same number. Cedar Rapids will send no less than 10, while Davenport will have a delegation headed by Dr. Paul Barton, former captain of the University of Iowa golf team. Des Moines, always represented by a strong entry list, will send at least 10 capable players, headed by Robert McKee, Des Moines city champion, and Jimmy Hubbell, one of the best in the state. Other cities have been sending in their entries and it is the opinion of the committee in charge that about 200 town entries will pass the 100 mark.

The country-club course is already in excellent condition but will be in perfect shape when the tournament starts. The putting greens, soft during the month of May, are as firm as a slab of marble at the present time. There are enough hazards and traps to test the ability of every golfer and the winner will be forced to shoot close to par to take the title.

How They Will Qualify. The low 64 in the first day's qualifying play will play 18 holes on the following day to decide the competitors in the championship flight. The 64 low medalists in this second qualifying flight will compete for the title; the others will play in the directors' flight. All of the remaining entrants will enter in flights, according to their qualifying scores.

RED PEPPERS

HOT SPOT CHATTER BY "EARL"

The home run proclivities of Mandy Brooks, Chicago Cub outfielder, might be construed as a knock at the National league. In 145 games with Columbus of the American association last year, Brooks collected seven home runs. Playing about thirty games so far with the Cubs, Brooks has recorded nine circuit blows. Granting that the Cubs have a cracker-box park, Brooks, nevertheless, has shown a decided liking for the brand of pitching offered in the parent organization.

Cedar Rapids baseball fans, some of whom are quick on the trigger in condemning misplays of the Bunnies, never fail to acknowledge commendable deeds of hostile players. As for the Bunnies, they have performed by friend or enemy, always draw a hearty response from the stands. This is as it should be.

Cletus Dixon is having a terrible time with his Waterloo outfield. Since the Hawks visited here last week no less than eight players have performed in the outer works. Some of them still are drawing their pay checks while others have gone their way.

A man, wise in the ways of baseball, made the statement yesterday that, in his opinion, not more than five players at the outside would be sold by 'Sippi clubs to major league teams this season. He admitted the brand of ball—also the caliber of the players—is faster than in previous seasons, but seemed to feel there are few outstanding performers. Of the Bunnies, this particular individual seemed most pleased with Dutch White.

Iowa Athletes Cop Honors In A. A. U. Games

IOWA CITY, June 22.—(INS)—In winning the midwestern A. A. U. championships for the fourth straight time, Iowa's powerful track team set a new record by scoring two-thirds of the total points of the meet.

The Iowa team piled up 56 points, while the total opposition entries scored only 83 points. Thirteen of the opposition's points were made by Iowa freshmen who ran unattached.

Seven of the nine new midwestern records were won by Iowa men. Charley Brookings, running against a slight wind, failed in his attempt to break his own world mark in the 220-yard low hurdles, but he set a new meet record of 23.4-10. He broke his own record in the 100-yard dash, being timed in .09 8-10. Three watches caught him in .09 7-10.

JOHNNY MOKAN was very much the whole works in giving the Phillies their second straight win over Chicago. Moka had a perfect day at bat with four hits in four times. He collected one home run and three singles and was responsible for practically all the runs. He drove in four, and when Adams died his last hit, the little Cub second baseman threw wild to third base and Hawks scooted home with the fifth run which beat Chicago.

BARNES TAKES 77 IN 1ST ROUND AT TROON

Mitchell And Harris Lead In Early Play; Duncan Trails American Star With 78.

TROON, Scotland, June 22.—(INS)—Abe Mitchell, British star, and Robert Harris, English amateur champion, were leading the field during early play today in the first qualifying round of the British open golf tournament.

Both had 75's for the morning round.

Jim Barnes, the American, was close behind with a 77, while George Duncan turned in a 78.

J. F. Cruikshank, of Buenos Aires, got an 81, and Wilhelm Zimmer of Berlin, 87.

Brilliant sunny weather with a moderate northwest wind coming in from the sea prevailed when the qualifying rounds of the British open championship began over both the new courses here this morning. The turf was very fast.

Only small galleries followed the first competitors away from the tees most of the spectators waiting until mid-day to watch the play of some of the British favorites and of the American stars, Jim Barnes, Joe Kirkwood and MacDonald Smith.

There are two other Americans among the 202 competitors, Douglas Grant, who makes his home in England and John Bredemus, a professional from San Antonio.

French Threaten To Place Boycott On U. S. Athletes

PARIS, June 22.—(INS)—A French boycott of American athletes and a sporting war between France and the United States were threatened today as the result of an attack in Excelsior on American "discourtesy" in excluding France from the Wimbledon cup tennis matches.

"England, Australia, Canada, Japan and even India are competing," the newspaper said. "Only France, which has the best chance of winning, has not been invited. We hate to think France is ostracized only because Americans know that Mlle Lenglen, Billout, Vlastoscontes and Lavos assure France every chance of winning."

"We can not imagine Mlle. Lenglen being beaten, even if America recalls Miss Ryan, who has been living in England for twelve years."

Recalling France's hospitality toward Miss Glenna Collett, Jack Dempsey, Loren Murchison and Charlie Paddock, Excelsior demands that the National Sporting committee take immediate action.

MORRIS AND KRAHL TO MEET IN WATERLOO

WATERLOO, June 22.—Eddie Morris, of Sioux City, and Frankie Krahl, of Milwaukee, will meet in a 10-round go in Lincoln park here Thursday night as a free attraction sponsored by merchants of this city. The Milwaukee boy made a bid for fame here when he handed Earl Blue, St. Paul, a neat lacing. Morris beat Everett Strong and later won over "Dago" Joe Gans, two no mean accomplishments.

Bob White, of Waterloo, will meet Harry Brown, of Cedar Rapids, in the semi-final, two bouts to go six rounds.

JOHNNY MOKAN was very much the whole works in giving the Phillies their second straight win over Chicago. Moka had a perfect day at bat with four hits in four times. He collected one home run and three singles and was responsible for practically all the runs. MANY FANS PRAISE ALL NIGHT CONCERT

Dedicatory Program Is Cause Of Rush Of Enthusiastic Reports; Long Distance Telephone Calls.

Declaring the transmission was "perfect" and the program "wonderful," dozens of listeners telephoned station WJAM Saturday to report on the all night program.

Among the out of town calls received were several from relatives of the artists performing. Mr. John Foster, of Galesburg, Ill., sister of Elmer Young, pianist, telephoned by long distance that the concert was coming in fine and that she was going to stay in it until daylight.

Dr. Schlutz, of Keosauqua, brother-in-law of Harold Reeves, pianist, also reported fine reception.

In all, fifty reports were received. Despite the storm night, listeners made no complaint of static or other interference. Each program was "unbeatable," they said.

Tomorrow night from 8 to 9 o'clock, Elmer Young, who tickled the ivories of the early days of the all night program, and whose melodies are known wherever WJAM is known, will play request numbers. Jean Kelly, westinghouse soprano, who sings with Mr. Young, has also consented to favor the radio audience with a number of her enjoyable solos.

Dog Hears Voice Of His Master By Radio; Searches

SCHENECTADY, June 22.—Here's another version of "His Master's Voice."

When Captain William H. Funston resigned from the New York City police department to become chief of police in Schenectady, he left his nine-year-old brindle bull-dog, Jure, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. LeRoy Ferris, in White Plains. It was a faithful dog and the new chief expected any day to send for his friend.

A few nights ago, Chief Funston gave a talk from WGY, Schenectady, on the subject of "Police Courtesy," and his daughter was tuned in on WGY to hear him. In the Ferris home are two loud speakers, one upstairs and the other down and both are controlled from a single receiver. Chief Funston hadn't said more than a half dozen words when Jure came to attention and began a frantic search for his master, racing upstairs in the vicinity of one loud speaker and then down to the room filled by the output of the second loud speaker.

Chief Funston, who is a willing today to concede that radio reproduces natural voice qualities.

NOT 'FAN' OR 'BUG' OR 'LISTENER' BUT 'RECEPTIONIST' NOW

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Earle C. Anthony, owner of KFI, has coined a new word for the perfect example of the speed heretofore known as "fan," "listener," "bug," and what not. Hereafter they are "Receptionists." Since radio broadcasting is adding words to the language each day it is only proper that a fitting name be applied to the vast army of listeners—pardon us—receptionists.
