TELLS WHY IOWA HAS OVER-SUPPLY TEACHERS

DES MOINES, June 22.--(AP)-

Tlows has a distinct over-supply of teachers. Biles Thelma Nelson. Seputy superintendent of atthe public instruction, said in commenting on the number now engaged in pedagogy as a vocation.

In one or two places throughout the state, she pointed out, school boards are discouraging the employment of married teachers, a condition almost entirely new. In this way, it is hoped to reduce the surgilus which also exists in the division of instructors unmarried.

Another method suggested as a means toward making more even the supply for the demand.has been higher educational requirement, which, would at the same time, it was pointed out increase the quality of the cheen the chee the teaching profession.

Probably the chief reason for the over saturated point in the supply of action leading to the over saturated point in the supply of action leading to the of so many attending colleges to turn instructors, now that anymiple course in the science of education is offered in two years
